APPELLATION: Vinho Verde

VARIETAL: Louriero and Treixadura

100% Estate Grown. Vines 25+ years of age.

WINEMAKER: José Oliveira

VINIFICATION: Traditional

TASTING NOTES: Fragrant aromas of white fruits with floral notes. Elegant and refreshingly crisp, with gentle effervescence.

The Las Lilas vineyards are nestled between the Lima and Vez rivers, in the Vinho Verde wine region of Portugal. Almost half of the 34 acres of vineyards are planted with old vines (> 25 years old). Las Lilas' winemaker, José Oliveira has been working in the region for almost 20 years.

Literally meaning "green wine," the Vinho Verde name actually refers to it being a wine that is usually drunk "young." A cooler climate and granitic soil lead to fresh, light wines with good acidity. Their low alcohol content and slight effervescence make them excellent as an aperitif, or for an afternoon spent in the backyard.
